

Measure quality metrics against NCQA national benchmarks

For health plans to remain competitive in an increasingly aggressive market, they must demonstrate superior quality. Having industry benchmark data that is easily accessible and actionable is key to measuring and improving performance.

In a unique partnership, NCQA and MedeAnalytics have united NCQA's national benchmark data with MedeAnalytics' robust analytics capabilities.

In MedeAnalytics' NCQA HEDIS® Quality Benchmarks offering, NCQA benchmarks and HEDIS measures are embedded into one platform, giving users the ability to easily view and compare their quality metrics against industry standards. This allows payers to track their current quality rates and take quick action to address unsatisfactory performance.

Using NCQA HEDIS® Quality Benchmarks enables you to:

- Compare performance across similar populations and plans using simple filters for demographics, geography, plan types, programs, and more
- Target action plans to outcomes with low compliance rates
- Identify opportunities for improvement in real time
- Create care gap lists for care management outreach
